SEEKS TO STEM STOCK MARKET SELLING TIDE

Federal Reserve Board Issues New Rules

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—A shift in Washington's money controls over speculation tipped the stock market scales abruptly to the buying side today and sent traders scrambling to cover shares they had sold short.

In the wake of the overnight news of a change in margin requirements by the Federal Reserve Board, some trading favorites were swept up for gains of $6 or more as blocks of 1,000 to 15,000 shares changed hands at the opening.

Subsequently, as Wall Street pondered the meaning of the credit screws the board put on short-selling and relaxation of credit restrictions against buying, the market lost most of the early gains. But a fresh wave of buying in the last hour lifted many issues near the early tops and kept bear operators on the run.

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The federal reserve board, apparently seeking to stem the tide of stock market selling, has issued regulations which in effect will make it easier to buy securities than to sell them.

The new rules, effective Monday, will cut from 55 to 40 per cent the amount of cash which traders must put up for the purchase of stocks and will require a 50 per cent margin on short sales.

This readjustment of credit controls over the market is expected by Washington officials to encourage buying and erect a barrier against short selling.

In practice, the buyer of a $100 share of stock will have to put up only $40 in cash. If he wants to sell the same security short, he will have to hand over $50 in cash.

The new requirement on short selling is the first ever imposed by the board. The only rule heretofore has been one by the stock exchange requiring a 10-point margin.

The board regulation was drafted in co-operation with the securities commission after reserve system legal experts reported it would not transcend authority granted under the Federal Reserve law.

Initial reaction in Wall Street was uniformly favorable to the cut in margins on the buying side, but the requirements on short sales came as a surprise to some traders.

The consensus appeared to be that the reserve board's dual action would do much to restore confidence in a market where $25,000,000 in securities values have been washed away recently under heavy waves of selling.

Until the board acted last night, financial and business demands for easing margin requirements on the buying side had been growing steadily more insistent.

She Knew Her Law!

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 28.—(AP)—A Negro woman came before Judge Rowland K. Adams on a larceny charge, pleaded "guilty," and then insisted she had stolen nothing.

"Do you know what 'guilty' means?" the judge asked.

"It means I didn't do it," the defendant replied.

The jury acquitted her.

Mysterious Monty's Bright Film Future Reaches Sudden Impasse

Hollywood, Oct. 28.—(AP)—John Montague's future in the movies and radio, seemingly destined for great heights only yesterday, reached a sudden impasse today.

The character role he was to have enacted in Paramount's "The Badge of Policeman O'Rourke," starring Monty's pal, Bing Crosby, probably will go to someone else.

Faithful Alarm

Somers, Wis., Oct. 28.—(AP)—An unidentified man, trapped by a home-made burglar alarm, was shot to death today when he failed to heed a command to halt after robbing the general store operated by James and Albert Bullamore, aged brothers.

The brothers were aroused when their locally famous device functioned for the fifth time in the last six years. The alarm, when tripped, rings a bell in the Bullamore home, 100 feet from the store, and turns on the store lights.

James Bullamore shot the intruder with a double-barreled shotgun.

DUNDEE FARMER PLANTS HIS 1938 CORN IN OCTOBER

Chemically Treated Seed Can Resist Winter's Cold

Dundee, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Farmer John Nepermann planted several acres of corn today—quite contrary to accepted agricultural practices—but early next August he expects to harvest a fully matured crop, more than a month in advance of his neighbors.

Nepermann was doing work in late October that farmers usually do in May.

The only difference was that he planted seed that was chemically treated by Howard D. Salins, Chicago, inventor of a process which he claims reacts on the seed germ and produces exceptionally hardy plant life and yields above the average.

Salins declared that all seeds that are ripe and have germ life may be planted in the fall, will withstand the rigors of winter and germinate in the spring at the time nature decrees.

Salins said the chemically created bacteria would become more active in the spring. He predicted the corn plants would be resistant to spring cold snaps, thus gaining growth advantage.

Corn planted now, he asserted, should start coming up the latter part of April, about the time when Illinois farmers start plowing and about a month in advance of spring planting corn.

Salins said that among advantages of fall planting is the ability of the plant to resist pest attacks because of sufficient growth by the time pests appear in June and July.

Boy, 13, Charged With Killing 11 Year Old Girl

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—A true bill charging Donald Lewandowski, Jr., a 13-year-old sixth grade pupil, with manslaughter in the death of an 11-year-old girl was reported yesterday by the grand jury.

A member of the state's attorney's staff said the youth was the youngest charged with such an offense in Cook county records.

The girl, Lorraine Rzeppa, died of cerebral hemorrhage October 6. Students at her school said she was hit over the head with a cardboard tube.

STUDENTS EXPELLED

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Two unidentified students at the University of Illinois were expelled for "conduct prejudicial to the best interests of the university," the disciplinary committee of the student Senate announced.

The committee, which refused to name the students, indicated cases of three more students were being considered.

Wisconsin Farmer Tells Dixon Police of Theft Of Car and Kidnaping

Duped By Negro To Take In Sights Of Two Cities

Glenn A. Farr, 44 year old farmer of near Mt. Horeb, Wis., yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, reported to the Dixon police that he had been kidnaped, robbed and his new 1937 Plymouth coach had been taken by an unknown negro, whom he met Tuesday night in Madison, Wis. Farr gave a lengthy account of his experiences since leaving his farm about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon until his arrival in Dixon about 1:30 yesterday. Chief Van Bibber broadcast a description of the negro and the stolen car over the Sterling state police radio station but neither had been located at noon today.

Farr told the police that he left his farm near Mt. Horeb Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock to go to Madison to make a payment on his new car, and there he met a friend. Tuesday night, while both were seated in Farr's car in the business district of Madison, two negroes approached and one asked for a match. The four men conversed and then one of the negroes who carried a trombone case, and represented himself to be a musician, volunteered his services to show Farr and his companion the sights of the Wisconsin capital city. The second negro left the scene and the newly made acquaintance boarded the car and with Farr driving, acted as guide as they drove about Madison, visiting several places.

Big Night In Rockford Late Tuesday night, at the negro's suggestion, Farr and his companion agreed to drive to Rockford to see more sights and then proceeded into Illinois, the Mt. Horeb farmer following the negro's instructions. At an early hour Wednesday morning they arrived at a "black and tan" beer flat in Rockford. According to Farr's story to the police, he financed the entertainment at the

WOMEN COMPETE AS HUSKERS IN BOONE COUNTY

Event is First of Kind To Be Staged in This State

By The Associated Press Women contestants held the center of interest along the Illinois corn husking front today.

At Belvidere, six housewives competed for the Boone county feminine championship in a contest which agricultural leaders said was the first of its kind in the state.

The women's event followed an 80-minute contest in which 11 men competed on the Roy Lindholm farm, three miles south of Belvidere.

The women entrants in the Boone county meet were Mrs. John Wurtz, Capron; Mrs. George Ackerman, Belvidere; Mrs. Denver Cordray, Garden Prairie; Miss Lucille Vowles, Belvidere; Mrs. Ed Brown, Garden Prairie; and Mrs. Elizabeth Larson, Belvidere.

The DeKalb county contest also was scheduled to be held today.

Bea Brown, of North Henderson, won the Mercer county contest yesterday by a margin of less than one ear of corn. His load was 39.349 bushels. Lloyd Sheese, of Ohio Grove, husked 38.337 bushels to win second place, and Les Miller of Keithsburg was third. The former county record, set by Brown in 1935, was 34.792.

1933 State Champion Wins Bishop McMurray of Wellington won the Iroquois county championship by husking 41.37 bushels in 100 minutes to defeat last year's winner, Smith Gillins of Milford, who husked 39.9 bushels. Vernon Bowen of Stockland was third with 39.44.

In the Champaign county contest, Kenneth Gould, the defending titleholder, placed third. George Christman of Sadorus, 1936 Douglas county winner, captured first place, husking 32.67 bushels. Lewis Lorenzen, Fossiland, was second with 28.45. Gould husked 27.15 bushels.

Ernest Rehn of Magnolia township, who competed in state contests five times and was the Illinois champion in 1933, won the Marshall-Putnam county contest on the E. R. Leigh farm near LaPrairie Center. He husked 36.77 bushels. Maurice Miller of Chillicothe, was second with 35.52 bushels.

Great Flood

Damascus, Syria, Oct. 28.—(AP)—A great flood rushed down from the hills northeast of Damascus today and swept through the town of Dmeir where almost all the houses were washed away.

Dozens of bodies were recovered by troops and police from Damascus. One hundred persons were missing.

The flood followed a cloudburst. A sheet of water nine feet deep rolled onto the town so quickly that the inhabitants had little time to flee to high ground.

DENIES SAYING RIVER HERE HAD INFAMOUS NAME

Inspector Erio Outlines Plans For Restocking Rock River

Pete Erio of Springfield, chief conservation inspector of Illinois, presided at a meeting of deputy inspectors held at the Lincoln hotel in Sterling yesterday, at which time he outlined the program for the restocking of Rock river in Lee county in the near future. It was also reported that Inspector Erio emphatically denied the statement made public several years ago in which it was stated that Rock river in the vicinity of Dixon possessed a "black eye," in Springfield, because of the number of fish traps being operated in the stream.

The chief inspector in his talk, stated emphatically that not a single complaint was on file in the conservation department offices at Springfield from Lee county relating to the operation of fish traps, and added that Rock river was considered the finest stream in the entire state for fishing.

Plan Restocking River Inspector Erio announced that a program of restocking had been considered and outlined for Rock river which provided the placing of a truckload of crappies in the stream at an early date and later the river was to be stocked with several varieties of bass. At the present time, he stated, the department is unable to furnish wall-eyed pike for restocking purposes.

Praises Organization The chief state inspector commended the action of local sportsmen in organizing independently to improve conditions in Rock river in Lee county. He also made reference to the stocking of the county with pheasants and commended the sportsmen and land owners on the co-operation extended Deputy Inspector Duls in this program.

Word was received here today that the pheasants won in last winter's crow elimination contest which was won by the Airport Gun club, would not be delivered to Lee county until early next spring. This action has been taken to protect the stock birds from hunters during the open pheasant hunting season, and to permit the distribution of the pairs of pheasants in the spring just prior to the hatching season.

Pastor Charged With Assaulting Girls In Court

Danville, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Trial of the Rev. William C. McCullom on a charge of criminal assault on two young sisters opened in the Vermilion county circuit court yesterday.

Attorneys were expected to resume examination of prospective jurors today. None of the first panel was accepted yesterday.

Mr. McCullom, who served as pastor of the Four Square Gospel church for the last six years, was indicted early this month after the father of two girls, ages 16 and 14, charged he assaulted them in his home.

Both girls were members of the minister's congregation.

DUKE, DUCHESS PLAN CROSSING AMERICA TWICE

To Start Odyssey At New York, Go West, Then To Miami

Paris, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor are planning a double swing across the United States from New York to Hollywood and back to Miami, a close associate disclosed today.

They will travel with about 70 trunks and a retinue of six persons, he explained. The westward trip would take the former British monarch and his American-born wife along a northern route while the eastward journey would be through the south.

This member of the Duke's suite emphasized that the exact itinerary of the five-week tour was still under discussion. The Duke and Duchess will sail November 6 on the liner Bremen.

After arrival in Florida they planned to visit a Caribbean island not yet decided upon. A friend of the couple said Washington and Pittsburgh already were on the list of places likely to be visited.

Equerry and Guard The retinue for the American tour will include Windsor's equerry, Dudley Richard Forwood, and bodyguard, David Storer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Beaudaux, American hosts of the couple when they were married at Chateau de Cande last June, may accompany them part of the way after preparing a welcome for them in New York.

The Duke would take a valet, it was said, while the Duchess would have two maids. There also would be a secretary to handle correspondence for both.

NO SURRENDER IN LABOR'S WAR

Recess In Peace Conference M. St. Last In- definitely

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Attitudes of "no surrender" by both factions in organized labor's civil war created a widespread belief today that the week's recess of the peace conference might last indefinitely.

An American Federation of Labor statement last night said: "We have not received any help from the representatives of the Committee for Industrial Organization. Unless there is a change in their attitude... it is doubtful if any progress can be made toward peace."

The C. I. O. made the first peace proposal Tuesday. In brief, it called for the C. I. O. to fly the A. F. of L. flag but to remain virtually an independent department.

The A. F. of L. would have none of that. The federation's peace committee proposed that John L. Lewis' unions dissolve the C. I. O. and march back into the A. F. of L. to fight for their principles at federation conventions.

The federation charged that Murray "issued a public statement rejecting our proposal without advising the conference."

Minneapolis, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Richard Flanders, 17, told authorities he slept on a chair in the kitchen of his home, played football attended high school classes two days while his father lay dead in their only bedroom.

Police said Richard told them he thought his father, Emil Flanders, was sleeping, but later found he was dead from a skull fracture suffered in a fall.

NAZIS' DESIRE FOR COLONIES IS SUPPORTED

China Apparently Losing Its War With Japan

By The Associated Press Major Japanese victories in the Chinese theater of war held world attention today while Premier Mussolini's outspoken approval, in Rome, of Germany's colonial ambitions was given serious thought by observers looking into the future.

The Japanese appeared well on their way to achieving their aims in China, even as nine-power treaty signatories prepared for a conference in Brussels on some means of bringing about an amicable settlement of the Asiatic conflict.

Refuse Foreign Aid On the Shanghai front, the Japanese after weeks of battle finally have driven back the Chinese to new defense lines beyond Chapel, native section of the city, just to the north of the International settlement. American marines and British troops offered to aid a lone Chinese battalion, trapped in Chapel, but they refused—and fought from warehouses, facing almost certain death.

Widespread fighting extended along the battle line running northwest of Shanghai through captured Tazang as the Japanese struggled definitely to break the Chinese grip on Shanghai.

In north China, where Japan already has conquered a vast area, the army command reported its mechanized units had smashed through historic Niangtzekwan Pass from Hopeh province, capturing Pingting and advancing to within 65 miles of Taiyuanfu, capital of Shansi province.

Supports Hitler Aims The occasion for Premier Mussolini's significant declaration regarding Germany's colonial aims was the 15th anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome.

Speaking to 100,000 Fascists gathered from all parts of Italy, Il Duce declared that it is "necessary" that Germany be restored to her "place in the African sun" and that "some clauses of the (World War) peace treaties be revised."

A German delegation, sent to Rome by Chancellor Adolf Hitler for the celebration, heard Mussolini's declaration, along with his denunciation of Bolshevism in Europe. He said that for "durable and fruitful peace, it is necessary for Bolshevism to be eliminated from Europe."

In the Spanish civil war, insurgent and government troops clashed along the extensive Aragon front. The insurgents reported breaking through government lines in the Ussera sector of Madrid and advancing 800 yards in Paseo de Rosales.

The Belgian government today invited Germany and Soviet Russia to participate in the November 3 nine-power conference on the Chinese-Japanese war.

JAPAN DISPOSED TO TALK

Paris, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Japan is disposed to accept friendly conversations with interested powers, including particularly the United States, looking toward eventual restoration of peace between Japan and China, a high Japanese authority said tonight.

As the American delegation en route to the nine-power conference which Japan has declined to attend, this Japanese authority suggested the Brussels conference might give a mandate to interested powers to open peace negotiations at Tokyo and Nanking.

The idea broached was that Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, American ambassador to Japan, and Sir Robert L. Craigie, British ambassador, would talk with Foreign Minister Koki Hirota in Tokyo. The American and British ambassadors to Nanking then could sound out the Chinese government.

Should Join Talks Other interested powers, in the Japanese viewpoint, are France and Italy who naturally should join any conversations, the Japanese informant said.

The immediate object of such conversations would be the arrangement of an armistice.

The highly-placed Japanese authorized this statement: "Japan refuses to participate in the Brussels conference for reasons already known, but that does not mean Japan will not accept conversations with principal powers interested. Evidently, Japan has a strong desire to bar the

Mattoon City Clerk's, Treasurer's Accounts Are $113,056.72 Short

Mattoon, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—An accountant's report, showing a shortage of $113,056.72 in the offices of the city clerk and city treasurer was studied today by State's Attorney J. I. Dilsaver of Coles county.

The audit, covering the period from May 1, 1931, to May 1, 1937, was ordered by the Mattoon city commission last May when the aldermanic form of government was abandoned.

"We have a suspicion of a shortage when the commission took office," Mayor E. E. Richardson said. "The city's only recourse now is to seek recovery of the funds through civil action against the bonding companies."

Dilsaver said he would decide on the possibility of criminal prosecution after he had studied the audit. The shortages covered the administration of one former city clerk and three former city treasurers. In the clerk's office, the deficiency was listed as $50,228.23, and in the treasurer's office as $62,828.49.

The audit ascribed the shortages to "unaccounted for deficits and overpayment to holders of special improvement bonds."

CLOSE CONTEST BETWEEN ILLINI AND WOLVES SEEN

Michigan Hasn't Won
From Illini Since
1933 Season

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 28.—One of the closest and hardest battles in the Big Ten football campaign is predicted Saturday when Michigan, fired with a determination to win its first game from the Illini since 1933, invades the Illinois stadium.

Added to the colorful background of the traditional homecoming will be the observance of Bob Zuppke's 25th anniversary as coach of the Fighting Illini. Approximately 25,000 spectators are expected to witness the renewal of the always spirited rivalry between the Wolverines and Illini. Assurance that accommodations in good locations for all comers even at the last minute is expected to swell the crowd Saturday.

Michigan, which was unfortunate enough to encounter Minnesota at the height perhaps of the Gophers' strength, will bring a rugged, experienced team, largely made up of players who lost to the Illini at Ann Arbor last year by a 9-6 score. The Wolverines showed well as they beat Iowa last Saturday and against Northwestern lost by a single touchdown by the aerial route after they had stopped the best efforts of the brilliant Wildcat backfield.

Heavy and Rangy
The Wolverine line is heavy and rangy, averaging about 194, practically the same as the Illini forwards. The height of the Wolverine linemen is impressive for there are only two under six feet. Capt. Joe Rinaldi, center, 5 feet 11, and Ralph Helkinnen, right guard, 5 feet 9. Their companions stack up as follows:

Ends—Nicholson, 190 and 6-4, Gedeon, 192 and 6-2.
Tackles—Siegel, 205 and 6-4, Smith, 203 and 6-2.
Left guard—Brennan, 202 and 6-2.

Fred Trosko, 154-pound sophomore left halfback, is the only lightweight in the backfield which includes Farmer, quarterback, 182 and 6, Barclay, right halfback, 163 and 5-11, and Stanton, fullback, 183 and 6-1.

Gedeon, right end, is an outstanding punter. The strength of the Wolverine line is proved by their ability to block punts. At Iowa the turning point was their blocking of a Hawkeye punt which set up the stage for their score, followed by their blocking of the Iowa try for point.

The Illinois lineup will be practically the same as against Notre Dame and Indiana with the possible exception that Al (Swede) Lundberg, may replace Tiny Cramer at right tackle. Jay Wardley will appear for the first time this season at left halfback, replacing Capt. Lowell Spurgeon.

Complexion of Teams
The complexion of the three Illini teams which probably will dress will be as follows:

Left guard—Pay, Siebold, Knox.
Center—McDonald, Turnbull, Lenich.
Right guard—Brewer, Hodges, Patterson.
Right tackle—Lundberg, Cramer, Gurdyk.
Right end—Castelo, Bennis, Mathaway.

Quarterback—Berner (acting captain), Brown, Pezzoli, Burns.
Left halfback—Wardley, Zimmerman, Mazeika, Thistlewood.
Right halfback—Wehrli, Burris, Smith.
Fullback—Carson, Bennett, Burris, Gloeckel.

John Kirschke, sophomore tackle, is a casualty and it is doubtful that he will be available.

Homecoming festivities will be ushered in Friday evening with a football rally at which Coach Zuppke, Director Fielding H. Yost of Michigan, Captain Spurgeon and probably Harold (Red) Grange will speak.

KNUTE ROCKNE TO BE HONORED WITH HUGE MEMORIAL

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Erection of Notre Dame's memorial to Knute Rockne, a massive $550,000 fieldhouse, will be started November 5.

The permanent tribute to the memory of the man who established Notre Dame as the country's most famous football power before he lost his life in an airplane disaster near Bazaar, Kan., March 31, 1931, will be a three-story building of red brick with Bedford stone trim. It will be 210 feet long, 182 feet wide. Rather than a varsity home, it will be devoted to meeting the physical training needs of the student body.

The famous coach's name will be honored in an immense foyer extending the height of the structure, the Rev. John F. O'Hara, president of the university, said today in making formal announcement of the undertaking.

Denver.—(AP)—Belle that Emil B. Deichmann, New Athens, Ill., army private, was insane when he killed another soldier, James B. Lowery, Yancy, Ky., at Fitzsimmons army hospital Oct. 15, was expressed in a report filed by a board of military physicians. It recommended that Deichmann be held in military custody.

Deichmann, assigned to bring Lowery from the hospital guardhouse to an officer for questioning on a minor offense, shot his prisoner to death as they crossed the hospital grounds.

MILLER CLAIMS SELF DEFENSE AT OWN TRIAL

Describes Events On the Night of Murder At His Home

Aledo, Ill., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Riley Miller, testifying in his own behalf in his trial for the murder of Joe Willits, Joy, Ill., auto salesman, told the jury he shot Willits in self defense.

In describing events at his Millerburg home, Miller testified that Willits followed him and his wife and step-daughter from an Aledo tavern and that he ordered him from the house.

Miller said after he connected a radio in the kitchen he started into a bedroom. Willits, he testified, "was coming toward me and I said 'Get out of this house'." He kept coming toward me and I took a few steps toward the door. I had picked up the pistol when I turned around from the radio."

Pressure in Chest
When he reached the kitchen door to go into the bedroom, Miller testified "I felt a pressure in my chest and was afraid. As Willits neared a table in the center of the room I called to him again to 'Halt and get out,' but he kept on walking toward me. When I got near a doorway and Willits kept walking toward me, I was afraid to go farther and stopped and took my stand."

When questioned about the positions of himself and Willits, Miller said "When I fired our extended fists were within two inches of each other. I just threw the gun up and fired."

Did Not Try To Kill
Miller declared he did not try to kill Willits. "If I wanted to kill him I would have shot him in the stomach or heart. I aimed high to hit him in the shoulder or scare him."

Miller testified he telephoned the sheriff from a neighbor's home. "I was so scared I forgot about using my own phone," he said.

Indications are that the case will go to the jury tomorrow.

DAILY HEALTH

RHEUMATIC FEVER—II

By Iago Galdston, M. D.

The relation of diseased tonsils to rheumatic fever is not completely defined, yet evidence points to the fact that the child with rheumatic fever benefits when his tonsils are removed thoroughly, as soon as the operation may be safely performed.

We are usually best able to control a disease when we know its specific cause and the manner of its spread. Both of these are undetermined for rheumatic fever.

It is an infectious disease and is transmitted from person to person among those in close and intimate contact.

The disease is slightly more frequent in females than in males. It is more common in whites than in Negroes, and in urban than in rural population. It is especially common among the industrial population of large cities. Rheumatic fever is more frequent among the poor than the well to do. But it cannot be strictly regarded as a disease of poverty. Malnutrition and poor living conditions appear to invite rheumatic fever, yet there is no evidence that the disease is markedly influenced by the lack of vitamins. Active cases require rest in bed and complete physical inactivity. They should be isolated so as to prevent contact with others as far as possible. A person suffering from acute or chronic tonsillitis or other respiratory infection should avoid close contact with rheumatic fever sufferers. And of course persons with upper respiratory infections and those with active rheumatic infections should avoid close relations with other persons, especially with young children.

The initial attack of rheumatic fever does not provide immunity to later attacks, but apparently encourages them. And these later attacks are closely associated with (that is, precede or follow) upper respiratory infection.

Dr. O. F. Hedley makes this pertinent observation:
"In view of the high incidence of this disease among the lower economic groups, especially in large cities, it is doubtful whether much can be accomplished without a betterment of living conditions. It is confidently felt that better housing, the provision of proper food and clothing, adequate medical care, and other measures to promote child welfare will be reflected in a lower incidence of this disease."

Claims Courts Have No Jurisdiction in Heiress Divorce Case

Chicago, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Attorneys for Baron Arturo Berlingieri contended in a court petition today that Illinois courts were without jurisdiction in the divorce suit filed here against the Baron by Merry Fahrney, patent medicine heiress. The petition, asking dismissal of the suit, was set for hearing, Oct. 30.

In an affidavit executed at Los Angeles, Berlingieri declared he was an Italian citizen and that his wife, whom he married July 31 at Harrison, N. Y., was not an Illinois resident, and was in California when her suit was filed.

DIXON CHAMBER AFTER HIGHWAY STRAIGHTENING

Coperoating With Other Towns In This Project

Straightening of the Lincoln highway is at present occupying the attention of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce which in co-operation with other towns along the route is vitally interested in the improvement.

That the Lincoln highway should be straightened and widened before other roads for trans-continental traffic are built, was urged at the meeting of representatives from Sterling, Rock Falls, Morrison, Fulton and Clinton Monday evening at the Rotary club rooms at Morrison.

As the roads are paid for by taxes of the residents in the cities and communities along the route, it was thought just that they should be given some consideration. The practice of building roads around towns, and not improving the roads between the cities, was considered unjust.

It was decided that each city along the route in the county should select a committee of its own, and the chairmen of the committees should constitute the county committee. By this plan, they will carry on the work for the good of the county as well as the cities affected. Morrison and Fulton are to select their committees in the near future, then men at Monday evening's meeting to be responsible for that organization.

George Wilbern, secretary of the Sterling branch of the Chicago Motor club, which is sponsoring the movement, presided at the meeting, where 16 were present. He told of the meeting at Sterling about a year ago, when 55 were present, but which did not work out so well as the time was too short.

Pushed by Motor Club
J. E. Bulger, one of the directors of the Chicago Motor club, is interested in the straightening and widening of the Lincoln highway. Mr. Wilbern stated, and so meetings have been called along the route. He stated that the Lincoln highway was built with the idea of travel at about 30 miles per hour. The turns were not banked, as modern roads, and it was not built for heavy traffic.

Since then parallel roads have been built, such as Route 92 from the Tri-Cities. A short time ago, Route 64 was completed a little north of the Lincoln highway, through Savanna to Cedar Rapids. Another, No. 71, is being constructed as far as Lee Center. The proposed route is south of Rock Falls, across the river by Como, and joining the Lincoln highway north of Agnew.

At a meeting at Sterling, Judge C. E. Sheldon was named chairman of the Sterling committee. Mr. Wilbern stated, "I was chosen vice president and Harold Ward was named secretary-treasurer. The motor club has been asked to complete the organization in Whiteside county. After the organization has been completed along the route it is planned to have one grand meeting of representatives from Fulton to Chicago, to put the proposition up to authorities to see what can be done."

Clinton Men Present
A. C. Root of Clinton, field director of the Lincoln highway association, stated he believed best results could be obtained by each community setting up its own committee. Judge Sheldon stated that he felt that all the cities across Illinois were paying for these roads, and they should be maintained for their benefit, and not for trans-continental traffic. There is due each town, he said, both the travel benefits and the financial benefits. If the highway goes around the town the motoring public will not travel into the town.

paper of the company should be taxed as not having been actually distributed.

7. Net earnings up to, say, $15,000 should be exempt from the undistributed profits tax.

8. A reasonable cash surplus should be exempted, if deposited with some authority in cash to be "sterilized"—held unused—until called for.

If you are a betting man, wager your money that the Treasury will not recommend any changes in the capital gains tax but will propose modifications in the undistributed profits tax.

Lot to Learn
The Democrats may have their famed publicity wizard in Charley Michelson, but when it comes to straight-away shirt sleeve press relations they can take some very profitable lessons from their Republican rivals.

Slender, able GOP press chief Leo Casey is no celebrity, but he rings around the Democrats in day-to-day handling of newsmen. Here is an example of the difference between them:

Seeking a list of the important elections next week, reporters first went to Michelson's office, certain they would find the information there. They were mistaken. The request was gruffly received, and the data finally given them was both incomplete and inaccurate.

A similar request of Casey produced entirely different results. Not only was he courteous and friendly, but he gave the correspondents complete and accurate lists of every election contest in the country and offered to dig up any additional facts they desired.

Home Cure
WPA writers, exhuming lore for the Alabama State Guide, came upon a story reminiscent of the old Acres of Diamonds lecture of Rev. Conwell.

The ailing wife of a wealthy planter of Demopolis, Alabama, went to Baden-Baden, Germany. But when she got there, she was told by German physicians that the best place for the treatment of her ills was in the deep South of the United States.

"There is a health resort there," they said, "by the name of Bladen Springs. You should go there."

Bladen Springs was one day's drive by carriage from her home in Demopolis.

Merry-Go-Round
Campaigning for Justice Hugo Black's Senate seat, "Tom-Tom" Heflin is making Alfred E. Smith his major issue. He is telling Alabama audiences, "I told you in 1928 he wasn't right. Now look at him fighting our great President." Heflin is claiming to be 100 per cent pro-New Deal except on two issues. He is against the wage-hour bill and the CIO. . . . Two labor decisions by Judge Harry E. Kalodner, of the Philadelphia Common Pleas Court, are rated by Justice Department and Labor Board authorities as among the best in their field. The agencies have printed and distributed them to local branches throughout the country. . . . There are 116 elevators on Capitol Hill; 89 passenger, the rest freight.

Wallace Approves Cotton Acreage Decrease, 1938

Washington, Oct. 26—(AP)—Secretary Wallace has approved for a 2,000,000-acre decrease in the amount of land recommended for cotton production under the crop conservation program for 1938.

The program, in the main, carries the same limitations or acreage "goals" which Wallace suggested a month ago. The cotton figure, however, was changed to 27,000,000-29,000,000 acres from 29,000,000-31,000,000. The decrease was ordered, the agriculture department said, because of higher estimates on 1937 production.

The department also said that 82 per cent of potato growers in commercial producing areas have voted for inclusion of a potato acreage goal of from 3,500,000 to 3,300,000 acres, as set in September. The potato figure is close to the annual average of the last 10 years and will be included in the general program which provides benefit payments for co-operation.

ALLAYS COAL DUST
West Frankfort, Ill., Oct. 27—(AP)—A newly constructed plant for the manufacture of "Coalaid," a preparation designed to allay coal dust, was in operation today. J. G. SCRUBS MAKE HEROES BUT GET NO GLORY

We Americans have the success bug, and we pour out admiration on the man who can lead the field. This is a pretty good trait, as it creates an atmosphere which produces successful leaders; but we might well spend a little time paying tribute to the great army of second stringers who make the success of the leaders possible.

A pointer comes from—of all places—the football field of Yale University.

When this season ends, some time in November, the inglorious members of Yale's "scrub" team are to be formally banqueted; and then one of them will be given a big silver football about the size of a pumpkin, to honor him, his teammates, and the whole mute line of scrubs who have gone unhonored and unsung through many football generations.

The scrub leads a tough life. He has to get out on the field four or five days a week all through the season and take his bumps while the varsity polishes up its play. He never has the slightest hope of actually playing in a regularly scheduled game. His classmates never honor him with their cheers. He gets all the grief and none of the glory. But because of him the first team is able to win games.

All right; that's part of the game, and the scrubs love the game or they wouldn't be playing it. But the football field isn't the only place you'll find scrubs. The world is full of them. Most of us are scrubs; part of the great army of second stringers who contribute what we can to victories for which we can never get either fame or fortune.

John Jones may become famous as president of a transcontinental railway. But he himself would be the first to admit that he doesn't run the railroad single-handed. Under him there are innumerable section hands, firemen, train dispatchers, master mechanics, shop foremen and so on. If they didn't do their part, John Jones wouldn't be a famous railroad president.

Bill Smith may be a steamship captain, acclaimed for the heroism of his rescues in mid-ocean storms. He didn't make those rescues unaided. He had stout guys down in the engine room with sweat rags around their grimy necks, keeping his ship a jump ahead of Davy Jones in its fight with the storm; skilled seamen in the deck force, ready to take a small boat across tossing waves at their captain's command. Bill Smith gets the glory; the scrubs made it possible.

And so it goes. It is true in every walk of life, from banking to politics, from coal mining to war. A few men have the gifts to be great leaders—the star halfbacks, as you might say, of the game of life. The great majority have to stay on the scrub team. They'll never be either rich or famous, and they know it and don't mind much. They do their jobs and do them well and the gifted ones get the cheers.

But the service the lowly scrubs render is something that should never be overlooked.

PREPARING FOR PEACE

The keel of the U. S. navy's newest battleship—the first to be built since the Washington naval treaty of 1922—is to be laid down two months ahead of time, and work on this naval giant will be under way before another fortnight has passed. The ship will cost $60,000,000 and will carry nine 16-inch guns; it will be named the North Carolina and it will be ready in 1941.

Considering the woefully unsettled state of the world, it is hard to avoid a feeling of thanksgiving that our fleet is being strengthened by this addition, costly as it is. And if the cost is hard to forget, we might remember that the North Carolina will serve her purpose even if she never fires a shot at any enemy in her entire career.

There is still something to be said for the theory that adequate preparedness can help to keep a nation out of war. If, by the mere fact of her existence, the North Carolina helps make other nations wary of starting trouble with the United States, she will be worth every cent she costs.

SUPERIOR CREATURES

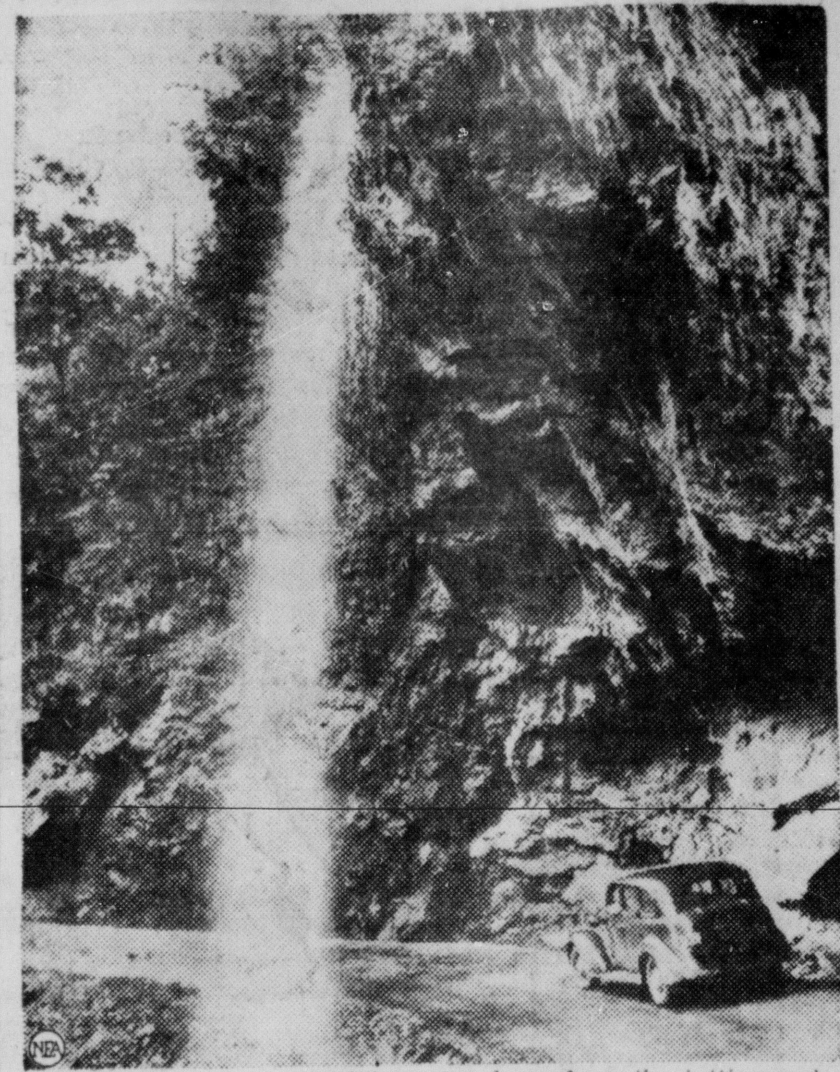

Gratifying indeed to mankind is the announcement of Dr. Philip H. Dubois, New Mexico University psychologist, that practically without exception "men are smarter than white rats."

But, Dr. Dubois continues, there are undoubtedly "some apes that can learn more than some men," providing the apes are fairly bright and the men fairly dull.

Man prides himself on his superior intelligence and then makes studied effort to conceal it. No big game hunter has reported seeing a wild ape intoxicate himself on loco weed and then go swinging down tree lanes endangering his own life and that of his fellows. But every day hundreds of superior creatures drink themselves into a state of temporary blindness and climb behind the steering wheel of a death-dealing juggernaut.

Even the lowly white rat might give human lessons in health habits. No rat ever takes up smoking, filling his lungs with carbon and his system with nicotine, just for the pleasure of blowing smoke rings.

Maybe the professor is wrong. A little more research may indicate that in exhibited intelligence even the rodent is man's superior.

RADIO BEDTIME STORIES

George H. Payne, member of the Federal Communications Commission, declares that radio programs are overdue for reform in the matter of the fare they offer children. He objects particularly to the blood-curdling tales of gangsters, detectives and straight-shooters.

"I have had many communications condemning them," says Mr. Payne. "I had a man in here the other day who said, 'My child had a nightmare thinking he was being kidnapped and tortured after he had listened to one of those programs.'"

Most parents probably agree with Mr. Payne wholeheartedly. After all, one does not need to be an expert psychologist to realize that nerve-racking, fear-creating thrillers can be an over-stimulating emotional diet for a youngster.

SOY BEAN TRADE STUDIES PROBLEM CAUSED BY WAR

Fear Exports Knocked Out By Victories Of Japs

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The soy bean trade, with an eye cocked on war business in the Far East, believed today American beans would meet the usual competition with Manchurian beans in world markets this year.

In the words of J. J. Schreiner, a well-posted soy bean trader, "Japanese victories will knock out our export business, as it was based on the fear that no Manchurian shipments would be made."

Observers said there was no indication a normal volume of Manchurian beans would not be available to the world. They expect moderate American exportations, but nothing of startling proportions. In fact, some domestic beans already have moved into world trade and arrangements have been completed for shipment of approximately 500,000 bushels from Chicago to Montreal early next month. This movement was reported enroute to Rotterdam.

Expect Lower Prices

Experts in the soy bean trade recently estimated prices of domestic beans should go eight cents per bushel lower to make exportation profitable on the basis of Liverpool prices. Schreiner said Manchurian beans were quoted five to six cents lower yesterday and that the domestic basis was too high compared with cotton seed, lard, corn and other competitive articles.

Manchuria, because it is the world's oldest and biggest producer of soy beans, dominates the international market. Normal production there runs around five times that of the biggest crop in the United States.

New Speed Record Is Cancelled By Engine Trouble

Bonneville, Salt Flats, Utah, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Capt. George E. T. Eyston roared down this saline straightaway at 309.6 miles an hour pace today, but mechanical trouble forced him to cancel an official assault on the world land speed record of 301.1292 m. p. h.

Official requirements call for runs each way over the course and since the Englishman was unable to make the return trip his mark—the fastest ever achieved in an automobile—was nullified.

Despite handicaps, his mechanical powerhouse flashed through a glaring dawn at 309.6 m. p. h., exceeding Sir Malcolm Campbell's speed over the same course, in the same direction, when he established the present mark in 1935.

TRACTOR, PLOW DEMONSTRATION ATTRACTS 300

Harvester Store Stages Equipment Tests At Dan Utz Farm

A tractor and plowing demonstration was held yesterday on the Dan Utz farm by the International Harvester Company store of Dixon.

Five different plows were used. One of these was the new TD 35 Tractor which was featured in the day's demonstration, along with the F 12 model.

The TD 35 is a Diesel tractor recently placed on the market by International Harvester. It was hitched to a four-bottom 16-inch plow which is able to plow approximately 22 to 24 acres in 10 hours. The work of the TD 35 and this plow attracted considerable interest and comment from the witnesses to its performance. The quality of plowing was in conformance with the high standards of the International Harvester Company. All plows regardless of size performed to perfection.

Test Shows Economy

The high point of the day's proceedings was the demonstration made by the F 12 tractor and a 2-12" plow. One quart of number 1 distillate was put into the tractor's fuel tank. Then it was started with the plow and run until the fuel tank was emptied. While plowing 6 1/2" to 7" deep, it ran for a total time of 45 minutes and 20 seconds. During this time it was found that the tractor had plowed .99 of an acre at a most of approximately 8 1/2 cents. Thus the fuel cost per acre would only be about 11 cents.

On estimations given by the audience on the elapsed time, William Schreyer had the closest estimation. It was off only two seconds. Bill's figures for the total time was 45 minutes, 22 seconds. Wayne Miller of Dixon and Marvin Miller of Amboy were tied for second place, with an estimate of 45 minutes even.

The agricultural classes of the Dixon high school were the guests at demonstration. They were transported to and from the grounds by the International company. Attendance for the day was approximately 300.

Metamorphosis Of Bungalow Brings On Complications

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The metamorphosis of a "ready-cut" bungalow occupied the attention of Assistant State's Attorney Richard Austin today.

The bungalow (in pieces numbered to simplify construction) was shipped from Bay City, Mich., by freight, disappeared in Chicago and eventually was found as part of a two-car garage and a front porch.

Austin said the Lewis Manufacturing Co. of Bay City shipped the bungalow to a "Midwest Service Company, Inc." at Chicago after the latter ordered it in the capacity of a broker. The Chicago company, he said, furnished a certificate purporting to show that a purchaser had deposited $763 to pay for the house.

Clark W. Cummings, credit manager of the Lewis company, obtained a warrant charging Michael Tauber, 25, with conspiracy to defraud. Cummings said the office of the Chicago firm was rented by Tauber, and that both house and company disappeared after the shipment.

Prosecutor Austin said Tauber told him the lumber had been used to build a garage and a porch at his home. Austin said Tauber and a friend of the latter would be turned over to postal authorities.

FIFER ON 97TH BIRTHDAY ASKS WORLD PEACE

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Joseph W. Fifer, former governor of Illinois, observed his 97th birthday anniversary today by sounding a plea for world peace.

"I am so distressed with the warlike conditions in Europe," he said in an interview. "Nations there seem to be arming for war—and I hate war more than anything in the world."

Fifer, who was elected governor in 1888 as "Private Joe," held open house today and was showered with congratulations from members of the bar and other friends.

The venerable Civil war veteran, retired lawyer and former state senator, keeps in close touch with world affairs even though his eyesight is failing. Members of his family and close friends read the newspapers to him daily.

Referring to war's "unspeakable miseries," Fifer said:

"In China, Japan seems bent on waging ruthless war on innocent and defenseless people. I trust our government may direct our course to keep us out of war and help in restoring peace in the world."

Fifer was graduated from Illinois Wesleyan university law school, and launched his public career by serving a city attorney of Bloomington.

28,140 Deaths In Traffic Crashes First 7 Months

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The national safety council reported today 28,140 persons died in traffic accidents during the first nine months of 1937, a nine per cent increase over the total for the same period last year.

Despite the increase, the council noted "several favorable aspects" of the traffic situation. September was the second month in which no increase over 1936 was registered. The total for the month—3,550—represented a 10 per cent drop from August.

The distinction of being the "safest city" among those with more proved to be "entirely worthless," according to Didier Poulain, French military expert. He points out that the results are terrible in destroying buildings and homes and in killing innocent men, women and children; but after scores of bombings of Madrid and Bilbao the civilian population crawled out of the cellars and went on about their business. It was with the greatest difficulty they were induced to leave in any large numbers from Bilbao. All this destruction, however, did nothing whatsoever to weaken the military defenses and was a ghastly waste of human life with no military result.

Kitchen Sink Is Busy Work Unit in Home

How important the kitchen sink is to Lee county families may be judged from the results of a recent experiment conducted by eight American families who found out that they averaged from 32 to 217 trips to the kitchen sink each day.

The trips, recorded by the photographic eye, revealed clearly that the kitchen sink still is the hub of activity in many homes and will continue to be although electricity is fast simplifying many tasks, says Miss Gladys Ward, home management specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

The eight homemakers cooperating with the study spent from one-half hour to two and one-half hours at the sink each day not counting other kitchen tasks, according to the results reported by the Bureau of Home Economics at Washington, D. C. Among innumerable tasks taking place at this utility were food preparation, dishwashing, canning, washing of hands and laundering.

In Illinois, kitchen clinics have revealed that the problem of height, location and arrangement of the kitchen sink is one which can be adjusted at small expense while some families wait for the convenience of electricity. Miss Ward reports that if the man of the family does the work a simple sink and pump with hardwood drainboards may cost as little as fifteen or twenty dollars. Cabinet sinks range in costs from two to three times as much as the open type of sink, depending on size, construction and type of storage space. Cupboard space for storage of towels, silver and kitchen utensils may be placed underneath the drainboards. The open type of sink permits the home maker to sit while washing dishes and is especially recommended as one practical means to save energy and time.

A height of 34 inches is about right for the sink which would be used by many homemakers. Variation may be from 32 to 35 or more inches depending upon the height of the sink is given as "one high enough to be used without stooping but not high enough to cause the homemaker to raise her hand, in working at the sink, above the level of the elbow. A sink placed too high causes the discomfort of having water run down the arm while working.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

BRETHREN REVIVAL

The spirit of the revival campaign at the Brethren church which will close next Sunday night has been a blessed experience for the church. The fellowship of Christians, the inspirational singing, the stories by Mrs. Thompson, the special selections in music and the faithful choir, coupled with the good sermons by the Rev. Paul Thompson, pastor of the Brethren church of Conway Springs, Kansas, have all been spiritual and helpful.

Last night there were delegations from Sterling, Polo, Mount Morris, and the West Branch Brethren churches. The visiting ministers were: Merle R. Hawbecker, and E. R. Hendricks of Mount Morris; Wayne Gerdes of Sterling; J. H. Brindle of Oregon; and Rowland McInay of Minneapolis, Minn. A selection by Rev. Merle R. Hawbecker and Mary Zigler of the West Branch church, and two numbers by men's trio from Sterling, composed of Rev. Wayne Gerdes, H. J. Brubaker and L. M. Kilhefner were much appreciated. Rev. Rowland McInay a young minister and a school mate of the evangelist read the scripture and lead in the first prayer.

Tonight a delegation is expected from Polo and Friday night will be young people's night. The young people Friday night will sit in a group and they will have an important part in the inspiration of the service.

Sunday will be a great day with Sunday school at 10 o'clock. The goal is 225. Following Sunday school the evangelist will speak and Sunday night at 7:30 will be the closing service of this series.

Found Dead After Directing Rescue

Minneapolis, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Max Zelickson, Minneapolis, a salesman, one of two victims in the collapse of one floor of the Morris Fruit company building, saved from instant death by a telephone booth, directed efforts of rescuers to reach him for half an hour.

He was in the telephone booth when the floor above him collapsed talking with a fruit dealer.

He guided rescuers how to reach him without removing key timbers that might crush his protecting booth. A human chain of volunteers passed debris back. Then suddenly the instructions stopped. What happened was not clear, but when rescuers finally reached him, he was dead.

STEEL PLATE PASS USED IN SCHOOL WAR ON NOISE

Evansville, Ind.—(AP)—To avoid too much traffic in halls during classes, Bosse high school pupils will have to carry steel plates like automobile licenses when they leave their rooms.

A student council committee, trying to cut down hall noise, worked out the plan.

Each room will have one of the plates. Any student leaving will take it with him to get past hall monitors.

Silfanilamide Elixir Fatality Total Now At 53

Chicago, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Deaths attributed to a drug compound, elixir of silfanilamide, reached 53 today and the American Medical Association said an end to the fatalities was not yet in sight.

The association announced the last two verified two deaths were reported from Wichita Falls, Tex., and Swainsboro, Ga.

Dr. Morris Fishbein said reports of seven additional fatal cases were received today but these had not yet been definitely traced to elixir, a solution containing diethylene glycol as well as silfanilamide.

The medical association, Dr. Fishbein said, expected to make public next week a detailed report on the wave of deaths caused by the lethal drug placed on the market early in September and widely distributed. Government food and drug officials said all known supplies of the drug had been seized.

Works From Small Job to Presidency

Hoopeston, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Friends of Ernest Eden Morris, new president of the Southern Railway, recalled today how his love for telegraphy caused him to leave school while still in the grades and start the career which culminated in his present position.

Born here Jan. 28, 1882, Norris started work as a boy delivering telegrams and learning the Morse code. At the age of 18 he was so proficient at the key he found work as telegrapher with the Chicago and North Western railroad at Arlington Heights, Ill.

His skill increased until Marvin Hughitt, then president of the road, transferred Norris to his office to handle dispatches. He became in turn Hughitt's confidential operator and then private secretary.

In 1902 Samuel Spencer, founder of the Southern Railway, hired Norris, who worked his way to the top of the line, reached last week when he was made president.

FORGED NAME OF VICTIM ADDED TO HAHN EVIDENCE

Allegedly Signed His Will Also Annexing Modest Fortune

Cincinnati, Oct. 28.—(AP)—A handwriting expert's testimony that Anna Marie Hahn forged the name of Jacob Wagner on three documents, including his purported will, was added today to the state's evidence in her murder trial.

The blonde 31-year-old mother, accused by the prosecution of "mass murders" for profit, is being tried for the poison death of Wagner, 78, a retired gardener.

Albert D. Osborn of New York, engaged by the state to identify documents in the case, testified at a night session that Mrs. Hahn was the author of a scrawled handwriting which, the state asserted, she represented as Wagner's "last will and testament," leaving to her all his modest fortune.

Osborn also declared the signature on an order giving Mrs. Hahn power of attorney for Wagner was a "poor imitation" and that a check bearing Wagner's name in reality was made out by Mrs. Hahn. The defense has admitted the defendant forged a check for $1,000 several hours after Wagner died June 3.

Hand Bag Yields Poison

Previously Dr. Willard Machle, a chemist, testified lining of a handbag taken from Mrs. Hahn when she was arrested August 11 contained the same type of metallic poison found in Wagner's body.

Dr. Machle, over defense objection, stated he found scrapings of lint from the bag were 35 per cent poison.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT SAYS FEAR OF GOD IS START OF WISDOM

Monmouth, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—

Dr. James Harper Grier was inducted as the fifth president of 82-year-old Monmouth college today. In an address at the ceremony he described the "fear of God" as the beginning of wisdom.

"Our times are out of joint, it is because we have closed our eyes to spiritual values," he said. "We have concentrated upon oil fields and iron mines, upon mills and great stores."

"We have built bridges and sky scrapers; we have learned the hidden secrets of the air; the frozen zones of the far south and the regions of the North Pole have been occupied—but the fear of God have we neglected."

Thomas Hanna McMichael, president emeritus and Dr. Grier's predecessor, presented the new president with the college seal.

Dr. Grier said "four elements of alarm attract our attention as we assume this position." He listed them as competition of state-supported schools, "mania" for technical education, shrinking endowments, and decline in religious interest.

President Charles F. Wishart of Wooster (O.) college, said "The cultural ideal (in education) is indeed functioning in a troubled age."

Speaking of various teacher oaths required in some states, he asked, "Is the time coming when the politician will tell the professor not only how to teach but what to teach?"

Dr. Wishart and Dr. McMichael were two of four alumni given honorary degrees. The others were Alice Winbigger, professor emerita of mathematics and astronomy, and Dan Everett Waid, past president of the American Institute of Architects.

RIVERS SWOLLEN BY HEAVY RAINS

By The Associated Press

Rivers swollen from heavy rains surged near flood stage today in parts of the east and on the Olympic peninsula, Washington, where a 60-mile gale caused one death and disrupted communications.

At Johnstown, Pa., the Stony Creek river climbed toward a predicted crest of 10 feet tonight, which would be within two feet of flood stage.

Weather experts predicted the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers at Pittsburgh would be within three feet of the 25-foot flood stage tomorrow.

Potomac river backwater rose even with the streets in storm sewers in the business section of Cumberland, Md. Half of Ridgely, W. Va., across the river, was under water.

Many of West Virginia's smaller streams were out of their banks and some lowland residents moved to higher ground.

On the coast of the state of Washington, torrential rains sent rivers climbing toward flood stage. Wind ripped down several power lines.

OFFICIALS MOVE INTO NEW ARMORY AT SPRINGFIELD

New Six-Story Building Replaces Old Office Building

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—It's moving time around the state house. Additional space is being utilized in the new armory-office building and in the shifting around of some of the state employees, to say nothing of visitors, aren't even where their offices are located.

Opening up of the new armory, replacing the old buildings across the street north from the capitol, caused a general reassignment of space for many of the secondary offices.

It also was a $30,000 a year blow to downtown landlords, since the state has moved out of most of the space it rented in the Springfield business district.

The new armory, a six-story structure, has office suites along its north and south sides. Into it several weeks ago moved the old age pension office, the parole board, most of the finance department's tax collecting divisions and the liquor commission, all of which had been paying rent.

Private Quarters

Now only two state offices of any size are in private quarters. The sales tax collection staff is still working downtown, and the auditor had part of his workers in another office building. The oil inspection laboratory rents a single room, but elsewhere the state is its own landlord at the seat of government.

The present activity is in moving from the capitol to the armory several of the offices which have been cramped for space as a result of the expansion of state activities. As some rooms are vacated at the state house, other offices shift around in a general moving spree.

Sightseers, however, will find Governor Horner and other elective officials at their customary places.

FARMER ADMITS HIS PRESENCE AT HANNA MURDER

Lawrenceville, Ill., Oct. 28.—(AP)—John Fulton, 38, a farmer of near Pinkstaff, surrendered to authorities today and admitted, Deputy Sheriff Patrick Bale said, that he was one of three men who were with Ira Hanna just before he was slain the evening of Thursday, Oct. 14.

The hacked body of Hanna, 54 year old Noble, Ill., farmer, was found last Friday by Fulton's wife, in a ditch near Pinkstaff. State's Attorney Joe Diver said yesterday Thomas Pantry, 52, of West Liberty, Ill., had confessed he killed Hanna in an argument which followed a round of taverns. Diver said Pantry named Clarence Thompson, 28, as his companion. Pantry, Thompson and Fulton were held in jail.

Bale reported Fulton told him he had planned to go to Kansas, Ill., with Thompson to shuck corn. Fulton said he met the automobile containing Hanna, Pantry and Thompson, near his farm. He said they discussed the approaching work and he then drove home. He maintained he knew nothing of the slaying until he read it in a newspaper at Kansas, Bale reported.

Bale said Fulton denied he returned to the scene of the slaying. Everett Parker, Sr., Pinkstaff farmer, testified at the inquest that two automobiles were seen at the spot where Hanna's body was found, but that one drove away and a car was returned.

Thompson, at first reticent, discussed the case late yesterday, Bale said. Bale quoted Thompson as saying he tried to stop Pantry, but Pantry struck Hanna repeatedly with a corn knife. Thompson said he took

Pushover

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Chicago's brave little band may be just a soft touch in Ohio State's road to the Big Ten football title or a share thereof, but the Maroons

don't believe it.

The Chicago team is so undermanned that Coach Clark Shaughnessy has had to teach almost every member of the squad the duties of two or more positions.

They haven't won a game this year in three starts—against Vanderbilt,

Wisconsin and Princeton. They don't figure to give the powerful

Buckeyes an even mildly troublesome afternoon Saturday.

But, they have gone about preparing for the tussle in the manner of a team with a good chance of winning. The Maroons believe that their passes and running game will click for the first time of the season to produce an upset.

In another spirited session yesterday, the Maroons, with Lew

Hamity, Ed Valenz, Solie Sherman and Louis Pette, manning the offense, displayed precision and the best power of the season. The Buckeyes polished off their offense, stressing passes which did not operate to Coach Francis

Schmidt's satisfaction last week against Northwestern.

By ALAN GOULD

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Notwithstanding rain, snow and conditions generally calculated to make football life unhappy for ball-carriers, this week's All-America round up features the lads who have been going places and scoring touchdowns for the old alma maters.

With a bow to Vanderbilt's 60-minute line, chiefly responsible for overthrowing Louisiana State and featuring an All-America candidate for center in Captain Carl Hinkle,

the fact remains that halfbacks

monopolized the latest big-game headlines.

Nearing the halfway mark in the pursuit of all-star recognition, the backfield list of favorites includes the following talented young men:

Frank First Mentioned

Yale's Clint Frank, a 1936 All-

America, who gave another superb

all-round exhibition against Corn-nell; Mill Hutchinson, who tallied all three of Dartmouth's touchdowns against Harvard; Vic Bot-tari, who twice crossed Southern California's goal line for California,

the nation's No. 1 team; Bullet Bill

Patterson, dynamo of Baylor's unbeaten and untied powerhouse;

Marshall Goldberg of Pittsburgh, who had one of his best days against

Wisconsin; Byron (Whizzer) White

of Colorado, who tallied 28 points against Colorado State; Jack Pencil

of Michigan State, a broken-field terror against Marquette; Jimmy scored 11 touchdowns for Detroit's unbeaten outfit.

OLD FOOTBALL
FEUDS ALSO IN
CORN COUNTRYAged Rivalries Not So
Noted Flare
Again

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Ivy

crops up in the strangest places.

Most football fanatics confine traditional games to the Big Three and their playfellows in the eastern 'Ivy' league. Don't you believe it. There's tradition aplenty in the tall corn and meek leagues.

Take a look at Saturday's games.

Everyone knows Princeton and Harvard has been playing since shortly after the Civil war. That doesn't cut much sage brush in Montana, where they have a traditional fracas all their own. The University of Montana and Montana State meet Saturday in their 39th game. The university has won

26 games, State seven and five have been ties.

The series started in 1897, just 20 years after Harvard and Princeton, who get together Saturday, had their first encounter. But in 1877 the chief sport in Montana was buffalo shooting and the Indians weren't from Dartmouth.

Dartmouth vs. Yale

One of the East's most notable rivalries is the Dartmouth-Yale series, renewed this week, which got under way in 1884.

Iowa State and Missouri reopen

a combat that has been going on since 1896, Saturday.

The corn country is full of disagreements that started in the handbar-mustache era, and quite a few of them are up for renewal

Saturday. Wisconsin and Northwestern, friendly enemies since

1891, meet with the Badgers awffully eager to score their first triumph since 1921.

Drake and Grinnell will also get together for another game of a series that started in 1897.

Attendance at church should be a fixed habit with all Christians, missing only when sickness, or other good reasons can be given to the Lord Jesus for our absence. What an uplift comes from the study of the Word in the Sunday school and the preaching of the Truth in the regular church services. No wonder God says in His Word, "Not forsaking the assembling of yourselves together as the manner of some is . . . But the more exhorting one another."

The pastor and assistant will look for you in the regular services next Sunday. Come.

Note, that the assistant pastor will be at Reynolds next Sunday morning. Give him a fine audience and a hearing for the truth which he is sure to preach.

Plan for the missionary rally at Pierce next Monday. Arrangements will be made when to start. All announcements will be made also next Sunday morning. These rallies are not only interesting, but helpful and inspiring along missionary lines. Rev. Arnold, returned missionary from our Africa mission is giving a splendid account of our work in that encouraging field at these rallies.

Believes One Factor
In Meat Prices Ended

Chicago, Oct. 27.—(AP)—Whitfield Woods, president of the Institute of American Meat Packers, said yesterday the decline in meat production, a factor in high prices, apparently has reached its low point.

In a prepared address to the institute's annual convention, Wood said production, particularly that of pork, would increase steadily during the next few years, barring unforeseen developments.

Of the 7,495 fur farms in the Dominion of Canada, 308 are located in the province of Saskatchewan.

HELP
3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MORAL ISSUE IN THE DRINK PROBLEM

Text: Romans 13:12-14; I Corinthians 6:9-11; Galatians 5:16-24.
By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D., Editor of Advance

The moral issue in the drink problem, which is the theme of this lesson for International Temperance Sunday, is strongly emphasized at this time.

At one time it was the economic issue that was emphasized. This was true when the country was at war and every available source of economic wealth was necessary.

The country then was strongly aroused to the matter of economic waste through drink, both by the loss of man power through the effect of alcohol on human life, and by the waste of food stuffs in the manufacture of liquor.

It was then seen quite clearly that alcohol could confer no benefit upon individuals or nations, but that it might mean a very real economic loss.

This economic issue was also emphasized in the days of the country's prosperity when, broadly speaking, there was a place and need for every man's labor, and when those who were incapacitated through drink slowed down the process of production.

When an artificial prosperity gave place to an artificial depression, when jobs were as scarce as they had been plentiful, and labor was cheap and unneeded, the economic argument against liquor lost much of its practical bearing.

There was a period also when the legal issue was emphasized in relation to liquor. Prohibition was the law of the land, and those who trafficked in liquor were law breakers. At that time the tendency was to put much of the stress upon the duty of the citizen as a citizen, to uphold the law and the Constitution.

The argument did not have much weight with those who wished to drink, and with those who were willing to engage in crime for the sake of profit and the indulgence of appetite. That legal argument has gone out with the repeal of prohibition.

Now once more we are face to face with the moral issue as the chief issue. There ought never to have been any weakening of the moral emphasis, though it should be realized that the moral emphasis is not the only emphasis. That the prevailing sentiment in favor of total abstinence has weakened does not at all mean that alcoholic liquor is less the foe of humanity than it ever was. Alcohol has still the power to destroy men and to weaken their efficiency economically, morally, and in every other way.

Here in our lesson we are brought face to face with the old problem in terms of sane and healthy living. It is not only a matter of alcohol; but it is a matter of self-control, and of decency in all one's habits and living. The appeal is specifically to Christians and the Christian life is one of self-mastery and of sound relationships. The man who is led by the spirit of God will not indulge in evil things.

The lesson does not touch upon the question of drinking in moderation, or what some would call the question of total abstinence. It is not my purpose to go into the controversy that might arise on this point.

One may, however, point out that considering all the evil that alcoholic liquor has wrought in the world, there is strong warrant for the contention that the Christian does not arise to his full privilege in combating that evil until he has refused to have anything to do with it at all. The total abstainer has logic on his side when he was against an evil habit and an evil traffic, and his example gives to his words strength and consistency.

USE OF FROZEN MEATS

There is much interest now in the storage locker system of preservation of fresh food. A preliminary study was made for a short period by the department of home economics and animal husbandry in the University of Illinois in June, 1937. Though not conclusive of final, these results may prove of value to Lee county people. Four men and four women acted as judges in tasting and the scoring of the meat.

Beef from good grade heifer carcasses and pork from choice butcher carcasses were used as the following cuts: The beef had been aged for 12 days at 32 degrees, and the pork for 7 days. Each cut was wrapped separately in moisture-proof parchment paper and frozen under the conditions given below. After freezing it was held in storage at 10 degrees until used.

Beef—Rib roast (5 1/2 pounds). Shoulder arm pot roast (3 pounds). Chub steaks (1 inch thick). Ground beef in 1/4 pound patties separated from each other by parchment paper and placed in quart size ice cream carton.

Pork—Loin roasts (3 pounds). Loin chops (about 1/4 inch thick). Sausage (packed same as ground beef).

Some cuts were cooked without thawing and others were thawed.

METHODS OF COOKING THE FROZEN MEAT

Roasting—
Beef ribs in open pan, oven temperature 500 degrees F. for a 20 minute searing period, 257 degrees F. for remainder of cooking to inner temperature of 136 degrees F. Pork loin roasts in open pan, oven temperature 500 degrees F. for 20 minutes; then 300 degrees F. for remainder of cooking to inner temperature of 192 degrees F.

Pot roasting—
Beef shoulder arms, by searing in hot Dutch ovens and then adding 1/4 cup water and cooking covered for 3 hours.

Broiling—
Beef club steaks, in electric broiler (temperature 550 degrees F.) until inner temperature of steak was 154 degrees F. Pork chops broiled for 20 minutes without thermometer inserted. The thawed chops cooked longer (see results).

Frying—
Round steak, floured, was fried in hot pan 6-7 minutes.

RESULTS
The judges liked the flavor and quality of frozen meats and those not frozen about equally well, except that they quite consistently thought the frozen pork more tender and more juicy than the fresh.

No consistent preference was expressed for a method of thawing though they seemed to like the thawed meat a little better than that which was cooked while still frozen. The difference of opinion was slight, however.

Losses in weight during thawing were about the same in each case and usually no greater than 1 to 2 per cent. Losses during cooking in the five samples were never markedly different from each other.

The maximum length of time which frozen meats could be kept after they were removed to the home refrigerator, before a tainted odor appeared, was 2 to 3 days in an ice refrigerator, and 3 to 4 days in an electric refrigerator, depending on the thickness of the pieces.

RECOMMENDATIONS
1. Remember that the quality of the freezer-stored meat will depend upon the quality and cleanliness of the meat which went into the locker. Cut the pieces small enough to be of the right size for the size of the family.

2. Prepare meat for freezing by wrapping each cut in parchment or some other moisture-proof paper. Stamp the name of the cut, the date, and the locker number on each package.

3. After meats are removed to the home refrigerator, plan to use thick cuts (steaks, ground meat, etc.) within 24-48 hours. Pork spoils more quickly than beef. Do not remove paper from the cut until ready to cook. Keep meat in the coldest part of the refrigerator until ready to use. As expected, meats thaw more slowly and keep for a longer time in a well-built, low temperature refrigerator than they do in a less efficient one.

4. Meats can be satisfactorily cooked either while still frozen or soon after they are thawed. The frequency of one's visits to the lockers will determine which method is more convenient.

5. More time must be allowed for cooking meats which are not first thawed, about 12-15 minutes more per pound for roasts.

6. A meat thermometer with its bulb at the center of the large muscle is the only exact means of knowing when a roast is done. Its outward appearance deceived one about the degree of doneness at the center. See methods above for inner temperature.

7. To insert a thermometer into frozen meat, make a hole with a stout ice pick or with a hollow borer. Chill the thermometer first before inserting in the hole, to prevent its breaking.

8. Shaping ground beef and sausage into patties before they are packed for freezing makes it possible to cook them without thawing and with no further handling. Separate them from each other with 2 thicknesses of parchment paper. They can be packed advantageously in quart-sized pasteboard ice cream cartons.

That household nuisance—mildew—can be avoided if damp articles are never placed in clothes hamper. Dry all clothing and household linen thoroughly. Don't let it collect in damp basements, dark closets or other spots that are likely to be damp.

Mix seasonings in a large salt shaker. That will make it much more convenient to sprinkle them over foods broiled in outdoor fireplaces. Salt, pepper, paprika, celery and onion salts and chopped parsley make a good combination.

When tall candles don't fit their holders, dip the bases into hot water and quickly press them into holders. Hold them there firmly until they become embedded in the holder.

Racks often are neater and more convenient than hooks for towels. They may be fastened to a kitchen door.

A generous-sized shoe bag hung on the inside of the downstairs hall closet door can serve for storing many articles—caps, mittens, rubbers, small brooms, hat brushes, etc.

Keep plenty of cleansing tissue in the bathroom. It will save much wear and tear on the towels—especially when the men folks learn to use it for wiping off razors and the women for removing lipstick.

FEED MERITS OF ALFALFA TO BE DISCUSSED

Demonstration Friday Covers All Phases Of
This Crop

Hogs have been the champion mortgage lifters of farmers for years. "Pigs is pigs" anywhere, but pigs will make hogs of themselves quicker and more economically on alfalfa pastures, in the opinion of Charles R. "Alfalfa Hutch" Hutcherson, who is in charge of the Alfalfa Day demonstration to be given Friday at the Dan Utz farm, about one mile east of Dixon, along the Lincoln highway.

This all-day demonstration, beginning Friday morning at 10 o'clock, is free and all farmers and homemakers are invited. There will be plenty of free parking space. Alfalfa Day is sponsored by The Telegraph.

"Of all the permanent hog pastures, alfalfa is in a class by itself, being rich in protein, minerals, vitamins and being the quickest to produce early succulent palatable forage for hogs," said Mr. Hutcherson, who is nationally known as an alfalfa expert and who has been working with this "wonder crop" for 35 years. He has given numerous alfalfa demonstrations throughout the mid-west, is a practical farmer and editor of Modern Agriculture, published at Waterloo, Iowa.

"Alfalfa is ideal for hogs," Mr. Hutcherson said, "because one can get them out of winter quarters on fresh, clean, nutritious feed quicker than where average pastures are depended upon for forage. As a rule spring pigs can be developed into 225-pound hogs about ten days quicker than they could be put up to that weight on any of the native pastures in the mid-west states.

Proved Worth in 1923

"In 1923 farmers who had alfalfa found it was the one thing that helped them to produce pork profitably. Corn was high and hogs were selling for about 6 cents. Pork could not be produced profitably on dry lots where corn and other concentrates were figured at the market value, but with the same high-priced corn and alfalfa pasture the few farmers who had alfalfa were producing pork profitably."

"I have received letters and experimental data covering from five to fifteen years' experience with alfalfa pastures for hogs at the state experimental station throughout the corn belt. All of these state experimental station authorities have recommended alfalfa above all other forage for permanent hog pasture."

"At Ames 100 pounds of pork gain was obtained from 396.3 pounds of alfalfa, 45.61 pounds of meat and mineral tankage and 27 pounds of salt in a dry lot, and it took 174 days to bring the pigs up to 225-pound hogs, while in the alfalfa pasture, to get 100 pounds of gain, it took 381.23 pounds of corn, only 12.78 pounds of tankage and one-half pound of salt, and it only required 146 days to make the pigs weigh 225 pounds. Understand they were litter mates and exactly the same weight when put on this test."

Alfalfa Makes Gains

"Various station reports conclude that, from an average acre of alfalfa, one should get during the summer of grazing season at least 100 pounds of net pork due to the alfalfa alone. During my visits to various counties in Illinois I have found all farmers who used alfalfa pasture for hogs were enthusiastic about the results."

Proper preparation of the seed bed for alfalfa will be demonstrated tomorrow at the Utz farm. Modern farm equipment will be used for the plowing, disking, liming, rolling, etc., and each phase of the preparation will be explained by Mr. Hutcherson. All types of farm equipment, seed, fertilizers, etc., and modern appliances for homes will be exhibited. In the afternoon there will be talks by Mr. Hutcherson and E. W. "Farmer" Rusk, well known to rural radio listeners.

Farmers with alfalfa problems are invited to bring them to the attention of Mr. Hutcherson, who will explain the practices used to meet these problems.

Mrs. Utz, wife of the farmer who is host to the Alfalfa Day demonstration, announced today that arrangements have been made to serve visitors at the grounds with coffee, sandwiches and other refreshments at moderate cost.

TOWNSEND CLUB

Townsend Club No. 1 is going to Polo Friday night to hold the initial organization for a Townsend club in that city. There will be music, speaking and a general good time in the W. R. C. hall and no charge for admission.

Our organization is pledged to secure more members, and start more clubs throughout the states, and our club No. 1 is working hard toward this end. About thirty new members have been secured recently and after giving Polo a start toward helping us to further the Townsend movement, club No. 1 plans to organize in other nearby towns.

Cars will meet at the north end of the court house at 6:45 P. M. and all members who have cars, and will take members who do not have, will please call Y1308, also those who wish to ride so that all arrangements can be made.

The Townsend plan is, after all, a humanitarian movement, and will benefit each and every one of us, so join us in the work and be one of us today.

"I helped to put this wonderful plan into effect, to make a permanent prosperity."

For something must be done for our nation and people, if we are to ward off the depression which is predicted for us in the near future, and if our old people are financially secure and our young people are working, there will be a bigger demand for produce of every kind and more money to purchase these commodities, and that, after all, is what is needed to keep our money in circulation and our people busy and contented. Then a depression can not hurt us either as a nation or a community.

—Mabel Nagel, Secretary, Club No. 1.

Very early Tuesday morning there occurred at the school house in North Dixon what might have resulted in a serious fire had it not been for the timely arrival of the janitor. POTTED PLANT AT HOME

Atlantic City, N. J.—(AP)—There's a new gadget, devised by S. Herbert Smith, to water the potted geranium while you're on vacation.

Operated by the heat of the sun, it will squirt ten ounces of water into a flowerpot on sunny days. Smith says the plant won't need water when there's no sun to dry it out.

Smith's gadget consists of a metal tank, a length of rubber tubing, and a tiny needle valve.

The heat of the sun expands the air in the top of the tank and forces a couple of drops of water through the tube to the plant.

He called for a navy "self-sustaining enough" to confine battles to the oceanic wastes and leave our peoples and our possessions inviolate.

CONTROL OF CORN CROP PUZZLING COMMITTEEMEN

Bulk Of It Consumed Locally To Feed Live-stock

Washington, Oct. 28 — (AP) — Chairman Jones (D-Tex) designated five subcommittees of the House agricultural committee to expedite preparation of a general farm control bill for the special congressional session.

The subcommittees were charged with drafting those portions of the legislation which will apply primarily to corn, tobacco, dairying, wheat and rice, and cotton.

Jones said that after a "discussion of the general picture" among eleven members present, a meeting of the committee adjourned until Friday.

Jones said there had been no decision on holding hearings, or on conferring with administration farm officials, or representatives of farm organizations, on terms of legislation designed to stabilize agricultural prices.

Asked whether he was confident as a result of the morning's parley that a bill would be ready for consideration when Congress meets

November 15, he replied: "Let's not go into that now."

He said additional subcommittees would be named later "if necessary." An indication that dairying might receive increased emphasis in the projected measure was apparent in the naming of a subcommittee to consider it. In bills already pending before the committee, dairying has not been put in a separate division.

The subcommittees will be made up of these members:

Corn—Representatives Polk (D-Ohio), Bierman (D-Ia.), Nelson (D-Mo.), Lucas (D-Ill.), Gilchrist (D-Ia.).

Tobacco—Representatives Mitchell (D-Tenn.), Flannagan (D-Va.), Cooley (D-NC), Kinzer (R-Pa.).

Dairying—Kleberg (D-Tex), Beam (D-Ill.), Hook (D-Mich.), Hoffman (R-Mich.), Tobey (R-NH), Andrews (R-Minn.), Lord (R-NY), Boileau (Prog-Wis.).

Wheat and rice—Pierce (D-Ore.), Coffee (D-Neb.), Cummings (D-Colo.), Hope (R-Kan.).

Cotton—Fulmer (D-SC), Doxey (D-Miss), Owen (D-Ga.), Kleberg and Cooley.

Committeemen described regulation of the nation's annual corn crop as their principal stumbling block.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex) told reporters he believed there would be little disagreement over other features of permanent legislation.

The difficulty over corn regulation lies in the fact that the bulk of the corn is consumed locally to feed hogs, other livestock and poultry. So little is marketed like other crops that marketing controls might not be effective.

Before the committee's closed meeting began, Jones said: "I think the bill should be as broad and flexible as possible so as to meet changing conditions and problems as they arise. We can't have a 'straight-jacket' program."

A measure which he introduced late last session will be the basis for the discussions, he said.

Applying to cotton, corn, wheat, tobacco and rice, it would continue the soil conservation program with reduced benefit payments, set up an ever-normal granary to store surplus crops for use in lean years, establishing marketing quotas and allow commodity loans.

About a half dozen committee-men were on hand. Several of them have written measures which Jones said would be considered.

Committeemen and farm organizations were divided last session some efforts have been made during the congressional recess to bring about a unity of opinion.

Some leaders looked with favor on proposals to guarantee farmers the cost of production by price fixing.

One point of contention was whether a program should be voluntary or compulsory. Some liked Jones' suggestion for marketing quotas, under which farmers complying would receive benefits which Congress might provide.

Others preferred a measure by Representative Flannagan (D-Va) to set up a compulsory system imposing penalty taxes on those selling commodities in excess of marketing quotas.

FDR HOLDS BUDGET BALANCING MEETING ON FRIDAY EVENING

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 28 — (AP) — President Roosevelt pointed his week yesterday toward budget-balancing conference with Secretary Morgenthau Friday evening.

The President planned little work for the remainder of a 10-day visit to his family's home here except the meeting with Morgenthau and Daniel Bell, the budget director, on Friday.

J. D. Ross, newly appointed administrator of electric power to be generated by the Bonneville, Ore., dam and L. C. Roberts, Jr., of Georgia, former assistant secretary of the treasury, were the only scheduled callers today.

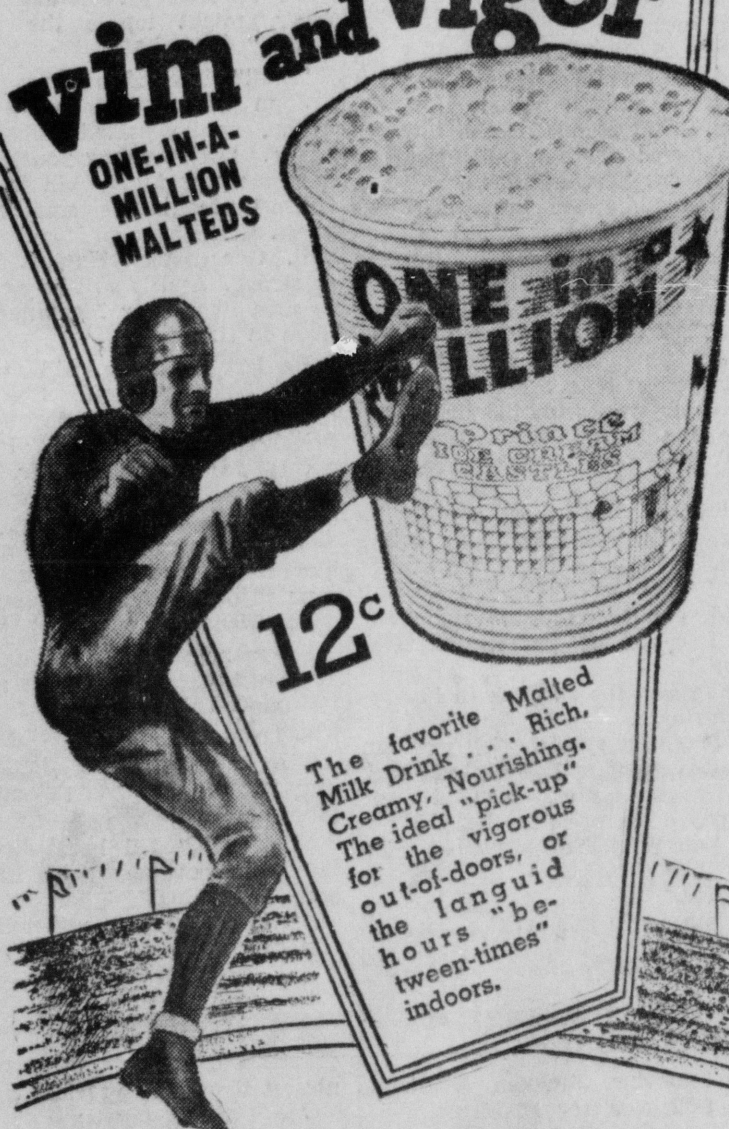

Ross is a leading administration adviser on power problems. Roberts has been active in arranging for Mr. Roosevelt's planned visit to Warm Springs and Gainesville, Ga., at Thanksgiving.

The President's consultation with Morgenthau and Bell continues conferences begun before the White House party left Washington Saturday.

A major concern of the President and his fiscal advisers is financing of immediate and long-range farm programs, including the proposed loan on this year's corn crop.

One pound of alpha-anti-sidewime of perrillaldehyde will go as far as one ton of sugar as sweetening.

Laying of Keel Of Dreadnaught Features Event

New York, Oct. 28 — (AP) — Laying of the keel of the $60,000,000 battleship North Carolina, the first such ship put under construction in the United States since 1920, headlined the city's annual Navy Day program Wednesday.

At the Brooklyn navy yard, where the 35,000-ton super-dreadnaught, designed to be the most powerful afloat, is to be constructed, everything was in readiness for Assistant Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison to drive the first rivet.

Navy yard officers expressed hope the North Carolina would be able to take the waves in 1941. Contract calls for its completion by August of that year.

A date has not yet been set for laying of the keel of the North Carolina's sister ship, the Washington, which is to be constructed at the Philadelphia navy yard.

FUGITIVE SEIZED

Los Angeles — (AP) — Clement W. Nelson, Jr., 28, identified as an Illinois millionaire, was seized at nearby Whittier on a fugitive warrant charging him with running down a pedestrian with his automobile at Springfield, Ill., almost two years ago.

Mrs. Grace Stephenson, an investigator for the Illinois motor vehicle department, has been in the west, seeking Nelson, for a month. He had been employed by a Whittier Lumber Company.

Oscar Trippett, one of seven attorneys retained in the case, sought a writ of habeas corpus for Nelson's release.

Even though world import and export of potatoes runs into large figures, the importation of this commodity is curtailed by many countries insisting on health certificates accompanying the potatoes, since they are so apt to carry diseases with them.
